Department Overview

The Political Science and Law Department at UW-Parkside provides many educational opportunities for the undergraduate student. The department's strengths are in comparative politics, international relations, American politics, public policy and administration, and legal studies. A unique feature of the department is the internship program, which permits students to earn academic credit while directly experiencing government, politics, public administration and law.

Preparation for Graduate School

The undergraduate major in political science can help prepare an individual for graduate study in law, public administration, the policy sciences, political science, or criminal justice. Internships, independent study, and off-campus programs for credit course work in political science provide an opening to the ideas and tools used in the field. Through internships with politicians and public officials, such as the district attorney and social service agencies, these tools and ideas may be used and evaluated in practice. The credit-bearing internship offers an excellent opportunity for exploring employment possibilities while supplementing academic training.

Independent-study projects are strongly encouraged for political science students who wish to acquire the ability to do research and to explore their own interests. Off-campus programs provide a third possibility for professional development outside of regular course work. Programs in New York with the United Nations and in Washington with the federal government are available as are other individualized arrangements.

Requirements for Admission to the Political Science Major and to the Major with a Concentration in Law

1. A student must be in good academic standing at the time of declaring the major.
2. At least two courses in political science in courses numbered 100 through 105 with a grade of C or better in each course. (C-minus does not count.)

Requirements for the Political Science Major (34 credits)

This department offers the two major options: the traditional major in political science and the major in political science with a concentration in law. Students need to complete the requirements for one of these options. For example, a student choosing to major in political science with a concentration in law needs to meet the requirements listed under the concentration in law. The major in political science consists of a minimum of 34 credits. Students must complete a minimum of 15 credits at UW-Parkside in their major in courses numbered 300 or above in addition to POLS 445 Senior Seminar in Political Science. These credits are to be distributed as follows:

1. Three of the following introductory courses: (9 credits)

POLS 100	American Politics.....	3 cr
POLS 103	Introduction to Comparative Politics ...	3 cr
POLS 104	Introduction to International Relations.	3 cr
POLS 105	Political Beliefs	3 cr
POLS 202	Public Policy.....	3 cr

2. The following course: (4 credits)

POLS 200	Research Methods and Sources	4 cr
----------	------------------------------------	------

This course is required even if another research methods course has been taken.

3. Nine credits from the following advanced courses with at least one course from each of the three groups identified below: (9 credits)

American Politics: POLS 214, 215, 216, 301, 360, 375, 385, 395

World Politics: POLS 224, 304, 330, 331, 332, 334, 335, 340, 341, 350, 415

Political Theory: POLS 207, 303, 304, 306, 307, 332, 334, 350

Note: Students may count POLS 304, 332, 334, and 350 for world politics or political theory, not for both.

4. And at least three additional courses numbered 300 or above: (9 credits)

The political science internship and independent study are recommended options but are not required. No more than 6 credits of internship and 3 credits of independent study can be counted toward meeting the credit-hour requirements for the major. Independent study credits do not count toward meeting the 15 upper level credit-hour requirement for the major. Only 3 credits of internship credit can be used to meet the 15 upper level credit-hour requirement for the major.

5. POLS 445 Senior Seminar in Political Science (3 cr)

All students must complete their degree program within 10 years of declaring a major or minor in political science, or the concentration in law, or completing their first course in political science, whichever is earlier. Credits earned at UW-Parkside or at any other institution that are more than 10 years old cannot be used to complete any major, minor or concentration offered by this department. A student who has been inactive for three or more years must reapply for admission to the major. The department reserves the right to require additional credits or course work.

Requirements for the Political Science Major with a Concentration in Law (34 credits)

This department offers a concentration in law for political science majors interested in pursuing a career in law or legal studies (practicing law, teaching law, court administration, and government agencies). The concentration in law brings together the most significant perspectives and tools required for a thorough preparation in law and legal studies, grounded in democratic theory and practice.
