

UW-PARKSIDE AND UW-MILWAUKEE CONSORTIAL GRADUATE PROGRAMS IN EDUCATION

Administrative Leadership

The University of Wisconsin-Parkside and the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee collaborate to provide a sequence of courses that lead to a master of science in administrative leadership and/or certification as a school principal, and director of instruction. All courses are taught on the UW-Parkside campus, making them accessible to residents of Racine and Kenosha counties. The program is designed to be completed in two years, although it can be extended beyond this period. The degree is awarded by UW-Milwaukee.

The Administrative Leadership Department at UW-Milwaukee, in cooperation with UW-Parkside, is committed to the development of educational leaders, particularly for service in urban metropolitan areas. We believe that excellent educational leaders nurture leadership among others in the school community; create positive work environments for staff, students and parents; and contribute to the improvement of teaching and learning. The collaborative program prepares principals who are change agents: leaders who are adept at using teams, who are able to diagnose current conditions, who understand how complex systems work, who are able to instill a shared vision, and who can create curriculum and instructional alternatives so students can attain high standards.

Admission

Admission is through UW-Milwaukee. Students are admitted as regular graduate students seeking a master's degree or as non-degree students seeking certification only. Additional information and application materials may be obtained from:
