

Apply Now to become one of the first UW-Parkside Student Environmental Stewards! For academic year 2007-2008, we will select 3 students to support the new efforts by the Chancellor's Task Force on Environmental Stewardship to help UWP become the "green" campus of the UW- System.

The UW-Parkside Student Environmental Stewards will lead an organizational effort to involve UWP students in all aspects of creating a green, environmentally-friendly campus. The stewards will be expected to generate environmental interest and enthusiasm among their fellow students.

In addition the stewards will:

- Interface with existing student groups and organizations to engage them in environmental thinking and change on campus.
- Lead an on-campus fundraising effort for the new Solar Power Panels
  - o Currently we have:
    - A challenge donation that will match up to $10,000.
    - A matching grant from WE Energies of $100,000.
- Collaborate with an AmeriCorps*VISTA member on an Environmental Education Campaign that includes the development of two new environmental centers (REC in Racine and CE<sup>2</sup>DAR in Kenosha).
- Establish and maintain a regular schedule of meetings (e.g. every other week) with the lead advisor (Tom Schnaubelt) to ensure progress toward goals.
- Meet monthly with the co-advisors (Cathy Folker and John Skalbeck) and periodically with the Chancellor's Task Force on Environmental Stewardship.
- Help create signage that displays UWP's current environmental efforts.

Benefits

UWP's Student Environmental Stewards will be provided opportunities to learn a variety of leadership and organizing skills. They will also play an important role in shaping UWP's environmental campaign, strengthening our efforts to become a "green campus." Stewards will also receive up to $1000 in hourly compensation over the course of the 2007-2008 academic year.
