Department Overview

“The unexamined life is not worth living.”
- Socrates

Philosophy is the rational investigation of those truths about reality, knowledge and values essential to understanding the place of human beings in the world and the nature of the good life. It includes within its scope both the study of logic and scientific method, including the metaphysical presuppositions of the sciences, and the investigation of ethical and political values, and so it often provides reflective insight for other fields of study.

The Philosophy department offers its majors and minors a variety of courses in traditional areas of philosophical inquiry while providing a broad range of general education courses and courses bearing on other disciplines, which are cross listed in other departments.

Preparation for Graduate School

Completing the major in philosophy will prepare students for entrance into graduate school in the field, but those interested in this option should endeavor to take as many upper-level courses as they can in as many areas as possible, including especially the history of philosophy. Graduates in philosophy have also pursued graduate study in psychology, art history, library science and law.

Requirements for the Philosophy Major

The major in philosophy consists of a minimum of 36 credits in philosophy courses. The following requirements apply to all majors:

1. Required Courses:
   - PHIL 201 Logic ........................................ 3 cr
   - PHIL 102 Great Thinkers ................................ 3 cr
   or
   - PHIL 260 Ancient Philosophy .................. 3 cr
   or
   - PHIL 261 Early Modern Philosophy ........... 3 cr
   - PHIL 405 Seminar for Majors: Discussant ...... 1 cr
   - PHIL 410 Seminar for Majors: Presenter ...... 1 cr

2. At least 15 credits of upper-level courses in the major must be completed at UW-Parkside. PHIL 405 and 410 Seminar for Majors in Philosophy, and 496 Directed Study and 499 Independent Study do not count toward these 15 credits.

3. A total of no more than 6 credits of PHIL 496 Directed Study and 499 Independent Study, will count toward the major. No more than 2 credits of PHIL 405 will count toward the major.

4. A grade of C-minus or higher is required in any course to be counted toward the major.

5. A 2.50 or better GPA in courses counting toward the major is required. Not all philosophy courses taken need be counted toward the major.

6. In the junior and senior years, philosophy majors must take PHIL 405 or 410 Seminar for Majors in Philosophy – and in connection with PHIL 410, they must each present a paper before a joint meeting of the department and the Parkside Philosophical Society and complete a portfolio of work done at UW-Parkside demonstrating competence in the presentation and evaluation of philosophical issues.

7. All majors are required to complete two courses, one at the 300 level, in each of three of the following four areas: (1) ethics, value theory; and social and political thought; (2) the history of philosophy; (3) metaphysics and philosophy of mind; and (4) epistemology and the philosophy of science. No course may be used to cover two areas at once. The department will sometimes assign courses to different areas depending on their topics, and majors will be informed of such assignments in advance.
Requirements for the Minor in Philosophy of Natural Science

The minor in philosophy of natural science is open to students majoring in biological sciences, geology, mathematics, computer science and physics, and to others by consent of the chair of the Philosophy Department. Eighteen credits of course work will be required to complete the minor.
