CLASS “FROM COMPOSITION TO PERFORMANCE” by GREGORY BERG

Friday, July 22, 2016
10:00 am – 12:00 noon
Molinaro Hall, Room D139

How is a piece of music composed? Does the composer hear the music in his head and decide which instruments are going to play each note?

Greg Berg will be back with us to give us an insight into these questions. Greg teaches private voice at Carthage, and also helps direct their opera program, having recently composed the score for his new opera “Black September.” Greg also has taught “Opera at the Movies” for our ALL group for the last ten years. He is a familiar voice to many people in Southeastern Wisconsin because of his on-air work with WGTD FM 91.1, the local NPR affiliate, for whom he hosts a daily interview program called The Morning Show. He also serves as minister of music at Holy Communion Lutheran Church in Racine WI and is the composer of three liturgies, four commissioned hymns, and numerous choral anthems.
