The Red Violin: From Film Soundtrack to Violin Concerto Celebrating the Music of John Corigliano

Thursday, August 9, 2018 Talent Hall #182 10 AM to 12 Noon

The outstanding American violinist, Joshua Bell will recreate his performance from the Oscar-winning soundtrack live with the Chicago Philharmonic Orchestra at Ravinia on the 21st of August.

Beforehand in this class, we'll explore the connections between the film's plot and its music, composed by Pulitzer Prize-winning composer John Corigliano, as well as sampling his other music—as Corigliano celebrates his 80th birthday this year!

Corigliano is an American composer of classical music. His scores, now numbering over 100, have won him the Pulitzer Prize, five Grammy Awards, the Grawemeyer Award for music composition, and an Oscar. In 1999 he won the Academy Award for original music scores for “The Red Violin.”

Our class presenter, Laura Rexroth, joined the music faculty at the University of Wisconsin Parkside in 2014. In addition to her duties as conductor of the UW-Parkside Wind Ensemble and UW-Parkside Community Band, she teaches courses in world music, music education, music history, and conducting. Prior to her appointment at Parkside, Rexroth held conducting posts at the University of Massachusetts-Amherst, Central College in Iowa, and The College of William and Mary in Virginia. Rexroth did her studies in music education and conducting at St. Olaf College, Northwestern University, Indiana University, the Aspen Music School in Colorado, and the International Conductors Workshop in Zlin, Czech Republic.
