

URINETOWN: THE MUSICAL – THE CLASS

Tuesday, March 5, 2019 10 AM – 12 Noon

In Studio B / CART D116 of The Communication Arts Building

This class focuses on UW-Parkside’s production of Urinetown, a satirical comedy musical that premiered in 2001, which satirizes the legal system, capitalism, social irresponsibility, populism, bureaucracy, corporate mismanagement, and municipal politics. It was nominated for 10 Tony Awards and won three: Best Book of a Musical, Best Score of a Musical, Best Direction of a Musical.

On a separate flyer, you can sign up for the play’s final performance at UW-Parkside, $15 for Sunday, March 17 matinee.

Jennifer Sassaman is a faculty member of the UWP Theatre Arts Department and Director of URINETOWN. She has been working professionally as a theater artist for over 25 years and in that time has directed almost 60 production, has acted in 30, has written several plays, choreographed over 30 musicals, and taught hundreds of teenagers and college students how to be stronger performers. She received her MFA in Directing from the Florida

State University School of Theatre. Jennifer is also the co-Artistic Director of Open Door Theater in Montpelier, Vermont. This is the second small, professional company she has started in her career and is enjoying creating exciting theater free of cost to those living and vacationing in central Vermont.

Before coming to Wisconsin, Jennifer previously taught at Troy University (AL) and has acted and directed at theaters and schools such as Walnut St. Playhouse (PA), British American Drama Academy (UK), Bradford College (MA), Waterfront Playhouse (FL) and the Asolo New Playwrights Festival (FL).
