

Application for Retroactive Credits in Modern Language

The Modern Language Placement Test is required for any UW-Parkside student who wishes to receive college credit for language competency. In addition, students may earn up to 14 retroactive credits that represent the first four semesters of collegiate language study in French or Spanish (typically numbered 103, 104, 203, 204). In order to be awarded these credits, a student must take the UW language placement exam and, subsequently, enroll in the UW-Parkside modern language course into which they place. Depending on which course students place into, they earn 4 - 14 retroactive credits. Upon completion of the course tested into with a grade of C+ or better, the student must also submit an application to the Office of the Registrar at the end of the appropriate college semester to be awarded the credits.

Retroactive Credit in Modern Language for Transfer Students

UW-Parkside will accept retroactive credit for foreign language if it was granted by another UW System institution and is documented on the student's UW System transcript. Students or advisers with questions about an individual situation should contact the chair of the Literatures and Languages Department. Advanced students in a foreign language should consult with an adviser in the Literatures and Languages Department.
