ABOUT THE FILM MUSIC PERFORMANCES For more than a half century, audiences have been mesmerized by the love story between Hollywood legends Ossie Davis and Ruby Dee. Now, their grandson Muta'Ali Muhammad unearths the foundation of this unbreakable bond in the documentary Life's Essentials with Ruby Dee.

In the film, the director breaks the wall between himself and his subject to ask heartfelt questions of his grandmother. "How do you stay faithful? And if I can't see myself doing that, how can I honestly get married knowing that I could eventually break the heart of the woman I love?"

"I can't say I didn't do anything to make Ossie unhappy...* Ms. Dee state as she carefully reveals the core commitment made between her and Mr Davis. Her answer only sparked more questions for Muta'Ali, provoking him to dig deeper into the family archives and the history of Davis and Dee's union. He chronicles their remarkable journey as trailblazers in the arts community and activists in the Civil Rights Movement. Muta'Ali also shares exclusive video footage, family photos and memorabilia. In addition, a bost of celebrity friends like Alan Alda, Angela Bassett, Harry Belafonte, Danny Glover, Hill Harper, Samuel Jackson, Spike Lee, S. Epatha Merkerson, Phylicia Rashad, Glynn Turman, Dr. Cornel West, Sonia Sanchez and Malik Yoba share eyewitness accounts of this American legacy

Muta'Ali brilliantly captures his grandmother's perspective about life's essentials: love, marriage, commitment, conscious art and activism. The film preserves the wisdom of Ossie Davis and Ruby Dee for many longing to create a tradition of rich living that impacts today's society.

Join us for an exclusive screening at the LIW-Parkside Student Center Cinema, Tuesday, February 17, 2015, at 7 pm., followed by a Q&A session with director Mute'Ali and producer, levon "N.I" Frank
