

Diversity in the College Classroom

Knowing Ourselves, Our Students, Our Disciplines

Edited by

EUGENE OROPEZA FUJIMOTO, FAY YOKOMIZO AKINDES, AND ROSEANN MASON

Session 1: Knowing Ourselves: Linda Crafton, Damian Evans, Peggy James

Friday, October 14, 2016

12:00 – 1:30 p.m.

Poplar Room, Student Center

At this session authors will share the focus of Knowing Ourselves as they reflect on their chapter in the book.

All chapter writers completed UW-Parkside's Summer Institute: Infusing Diversity in the Curriculum from 2007-2010, a faculty development project organized by the Center for Ethnic Studies with support from the Teaching & Learning Center.

Books will be available for purchase and signing.

Refreshments will be served.

This event is co-presented by UW-Parkside's Center for Ethnic Studies, and the Teaching & Learning Center.