

7th Annual Online Course Showcase

Wednesday, February 22, 2017
12:00 – 1:30 p.m.
Faculty/Staff Lounge, WYLL 247

Please join those who participated in the summer Online Course Developers Workshop at the seventh annual showcase. Learn about the following aspects of their new online courses:

- Simon Akindes, POLS 103, Introduction to Comparative Politics: Difficulties in integrating a constructivist teaching philosophy into an online class.
- Joe Benson, ENGL 106, Introduction to Creative Writing: A demo of the virtual classroom.
- Ting He, ACCT 301, Intermediate Accounting: Checklists and news announcements summarize weekly learning activities
- Shawn Houtsinger, ENGL 168, Introduction to Professional Writing: Peer assessment in online courses: e-portfolio & discussion boards.
- Christopher Hudspeth, PHIL 206, Introduction to Ethics: Problems Getting online courses off the ground.
- Amy Kushner, ENGL 204, Writing for Business and Industry:
- Joy Wolf, GEOG 100, Physical Geography and the Environment: Learn how to integrate Launch Pad into your classroom.
- Rizvana Zameeruddin, BUSN 272, Legal Environment of Business: How to set up content.

Lunch will be provided.

Please RSVP via the online registration form.

This showcase session is sponsored by the Teaching & Learning Center and the Provost's Office.