THERE'S GOT TO BEAMORNING AFTER

https://youtu.be/ KClpLzFftU

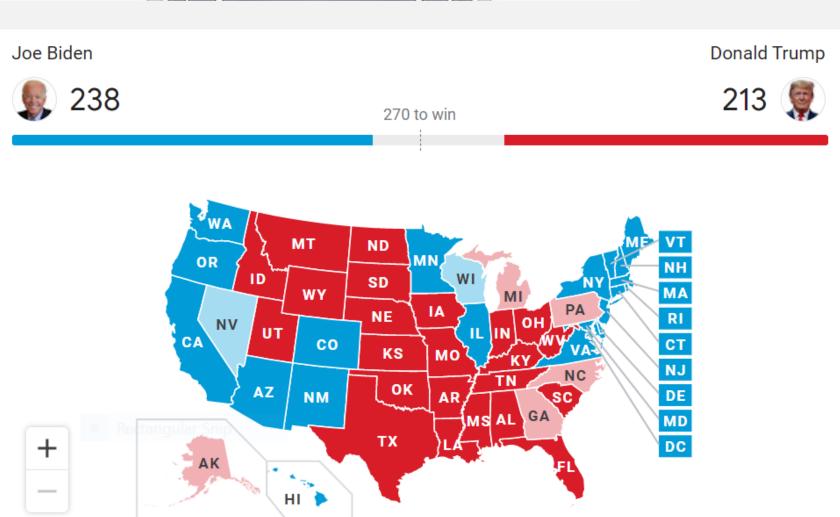

There's got to be a morning after If we can hold on through the night We have a chance to find the sunshine Let's keep on looking for the light Oh, can't you see the morning after? It's waiting right outside the storm Why don't we cross the bridge together And find a place that's safe and warm? It's not too late, we should be giving Only with love can we climb It's not too late, not while we're living Let's put our hands out in time There's got to be a morning after We're moving closer to the shore I know we'll be there by tomorrow And we'll escape the darkness We won't be searching anymore

CUMULATIVE EXTREMISM DESTROYS DEMOCRACY

Americans on both the left and the right now view their political opponents not as fellow Americans with differing views, but as enemies to be vanquished. And they have come to view the Constitution not as an aspirational statement of shared principles and a bulwark against tribalism, but as a cudgel with which to attack those enemies. The Atlantic

Percent who say:

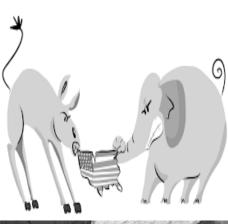

AN EXERCISE IN HUMILITY FROM BRAVER ANGELS

- 1. How often do I find myself thinking about "those people" on the other political side without much regard for the variation among them?
- 2. How often do I find myself assigning mainly self-serving or negative motives to the other group—and mainly positive motives to my group?
- 3. How often do I find myself focusing on the most extreme or outrageous ideas and people on the other side, thereby making it hard to see how a reasonable person could remain in that group?
- 4. How often do I find myself comparing the worst people on the other side with the best people on my side?
- 5. How often do I feel a "rush" of pleasure with friends when we ridicule those crazies on the other political side?
- 6. Which of the following is closest to my overall or most common emotional attitude towards the majority of people who support the other side? Circle the one closest to where you are now and then the one you aspire to, if they are different.
- Hate. They are enemies out to destroy the country.
- Disdain. They are ignorant and should know better.
- Pity. They are well meaning but duped.
- Basic respect. They make contributions even if they are mostly off base.
- Respect and appreciation. They make unique and necessary contributions.

ELECTORAL FUNDAMENTALISM

..while elections certainly exist and can change governments, public electoral debate is a tightly controlled spectacle, managed by rival teams of professionals expert in the techniques of persuasion, and considering a small range of issues selected by those teams. The mass of citizens plays a passive, quiescent part, responding only to the signals given them (Colin Crouch, 2004)

Isn't it bizarre that voting, our highest civic duty, boils down to an individual action performed in the silence of the voting booth?

Is this really the place where we turn individual gut feelings into shared priorities?

Is it really where the common good and the long term are best served?

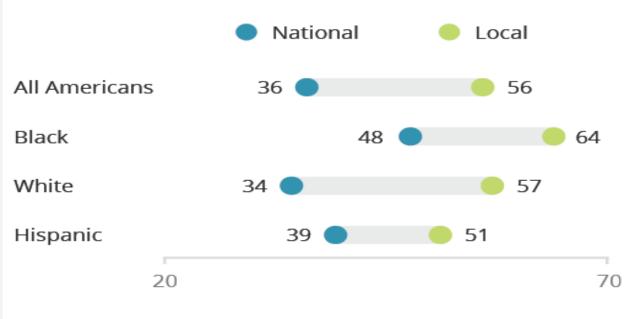

(Van Reybrouck, 2016)

IS EVERYTHING LOCAL?

WE MAY OVERESTIMATE THE POWER OF THE PRESIDENCY

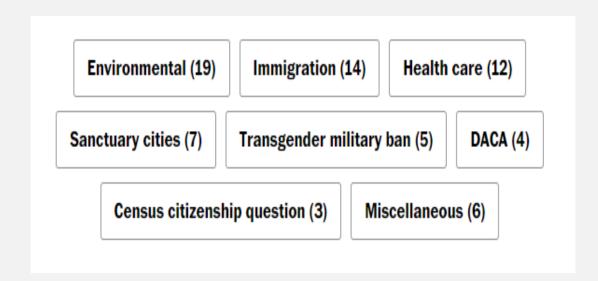

Is an imperial presidency only due to norms, rather than rules, procedures, and the constitution?

We have not yet found a way to separate the office of symbolizing the life of the nation from the office of exercising executive power. The confounding of these two offices was, in the beginning, a major source of presidential power. (Novak, 1974)

WE MAY OVERESTIMATE THE POWER OF THE PRESIDENCY

President Trump has issued Donald Trump issued 193 executive orders between 2017 and 2020; as of 2019, 63 had been challenged in the federal courts
