Please provide any additional information about or descriptions of the supervised clinical experiences:

All students enrolled in EDU seminar courses are also enrolled in supervised clinical experiences prior to and following enrollment in the program. All clinical experiences for the program are supervised by full time or adjunct faculty. The numbers of teachers and students in this section reflects the program pre-enrollment and post-enrollment, but not program completers.

Enrollment

On this page, enter the number of candidates for an initial teaching credential who are enrolled in the initial teacher preparation programs within your institution of higher education (IHE) or organization. Do not report on the total number of students enrolled in the entire IHE. Do not include individuals who currently hold a teaching credential and are seeking additional licenses or endorsements, or individuals preparing for school-based careers other than classroom teachers (e.g., administrators, guidance counselors).

The Department recognizes that in many cases, candidates voluntarily report their race/ethnicity and gender data, and that in some cases, candidates may choose not to report this information. Please report on the race/ethnicity data you have available, though the data may not be complete. It is not expected that the sum of the enrolled students reported by race/ethnicity or by gender will necessarily equal the total number of students enrolled.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the candidates enrolled in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the candidates enrolled in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the candidates enrolled in the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the enrollment data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Enrollment

For the purpose of Title II reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Additional guidance on reporting race and ethnicity data.

Total number of students enrolled in 2015-16	45
Unduplicated number of males enrolled in 2015-16	13
Unduplicated number of females enrolled in 2015-16	32

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. Also note that individuals can belong to one or more racial groups, so the sum of the members of each racial category may not necessarily add up to the total number of students enrolled. (§205(a)(1)(C)(ii)(H))

2015-16	Number Enrolled

2015-16	Number Enrolled

Teachers Prepared

On this page, enter the number of program completers by the subject area in which they were prepared to teach, and by their academic majors. Note that an individual can be counted in more than one academic major and subject area. For example, if an individual is prepared to teach Elementary Education and Mathematics, that individual should be counted in both subject areas. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major or subject area, you may leave the cell blank. Please use the "Other" category sparingly, if there is no similar subject area or academic major listed. In these cases, you should use the text box to describe the subject area(s) and/or the academic major(s) counted in the "Other" category.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the program completers in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the program completers in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the program completers for the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the teachers prepared data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Teachers Prepared by Academic Major

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by academic major for academic year 2015-16. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Academic major" refers to the actual major(s) declared by the program completer. An individual can be counted in more than one academic major. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major, please leave that cell blank. (§205(b)(1)(H))

Please note that the list of majors includes several "Teacher Education" majors, as well as several noneducation majors. Please use care in entering your majors to ensure education-specific majors and non-education majors are counted correctly. For example, if an individual majored in Chemistry, that individual should be counted in the "Chemistry" academic major category rather than the "Teacher Education—Chemistry" category.

SECTION I: PROGRAM INFORMATION

Program Completers

On this page, enter the total number of individuals who completed the program in AY 2015-16 and the two prior academic years. If you submitted an IPRC last year, the number of program completers for the two prior academic years are pre-loaded from your prior year's report.

A program completer is a person who has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program. Program completers include all those who are documented as having met such requirements. Documentation may take the form of a degree, institutional certificate, program credential, transcript or other written proof of having met the program's requirements. In applying this definition, the fact that an individual has or has not been recommended to the state for initial certification or licensure may not be used as a criterion for determining who is a program completer.

An individual cannot be classified as both enrolled and as a program completer at the same time. An enrolled individual is not a program completer. Once an individual has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program and becomes a program completer, the individual is no longer classified as enrolled.

After entering the program completers, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

8. Describe your institution's most successful strategies in meeting the assurances listed above:

We did not have an Educator Preparation Program in 2012 - 2013. The University of Wisconsin-Parkside was developing a new program for Southeastern Wisconsin in collaboration with regional partners in the local school districts, businesses and community organizations. Through these partnerships a new program was created and began accepting students in the fall of 2013. The new program will meet all of the areas addressed above.

Use of Technology

1.	l. Provide the following information about the use of technology in your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes'	indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request. (§205(a)(1)(F))

Does your program prepare teachers to:

- a. integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction
 - Ye
 - No
- b. use technology effectively to collect data to improve teaching and learning
 - Yes
 - No
- c. use technology effectively to manage data to improve teaching and learning

 - No
- d. use technology effectively to analyze data to improve teaching and learning

- 2. Provide a description of the evidence that your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction, and to use technology effectively to collect, manage, and analyze data in order to improve teaching and learning for the purpose of increasing student academic achievement. Include a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to use the principles of universal design for learning, as applicable. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the four elements listed above are not currently in place.

Over the course of the program, our teacher candidates are prepared to integrate the following technologies into curricula and instruction: operating system software (i.e. Windows, Mac OS), application software (i.e. word processing, spreadsheets, database management, presentation software), computer managed instructional software (i.e. grade keeping and attendance software), computer assisted instructional software (i.e. assistive technology, electronic portfolio, smart technology), educational software (i.e. drill and practice, WebQuests, problem-solving software, simulations, multimedia/multimodal applications, educational games). Our courses are designed to meet the ISTE standards in education technology. In the first two seminar courses that are required of all teacher candidates (EDU 100: Seminar and Clinical I, and EDU 200 Seminar and Clinical II) teacher candidates receive explicit instruction in ethical issues as they relate to technology and issues of access and inequalities, privacy and Internet safety and netiquette issues pertaining to plagiarism and copyright infringement. During subsequent methods courses, teacher candidates use the Internet to conduct research and use a variety of Web 2.0 applications and collaborative tools as teaching and learning tools to support instruction at their clinical sites.

Teacher candidates are instructed at all program levels to use computer and digital applications such as spreadsheets, databases, and other Web 2.0 applications to design formats in which to enter data, develop formulas and functions on spreadsheets to create summative reports for feedback purposes and to inform/modify instruction. Beginning in EDU 100 and continuing across the program, coursework includes experiences in collecting and analyzing student/district/state and national data. Teacher candidates use technology to draw generalizations and specific understandings in order to make recommendations to improve teaching in the classroom and education as a national institution. Teacher candidates make use of LiveText, an electronic portfolio for signature assignments, the edTPA, and clinical evaluations. This allows the Institute of Professional Educator Development to collect data which can be aggregated and analyzed to support curricular and programmatic decisions. During EDU 100, the first education course, teacher candidates receive an orientation to LiveText and information on how to compete the FEM (field experience module). In language acquisition and literacy instruction courses, teacher candidates research and utilize various Internet sites to locate intervention strategies for Universal access and during the course "Assessment and Developmentally Appropriate Design", teacher candidates apply Universal Design for Learning principles to the lessons they teach during their clinical placements. Teacher candidates are required beginning at the 400 level to develop lesson plans that integrate technology into the content area in order to assist students in accessing grade-level content material through the activation of background knowledge, making connections within and across academic areas, building fluency, and evaluating documents.

Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

The IPED teacher preparation program offers foundational methods courses all of our candidates are required to take that specifically address students with disabilities and students with limited experience with English. In the general education foundational coursework, teacher candidates are required to take courses that introduce them to learning theories, pedagogical approaches, and student characteristics for teaching children and youth with special learning considerations and English language learners. In these foundational courses, teacher candidates are introduced to state and federal laws and the general education teacher's role in the IEP process. Teacher candidates learning about IDEA and are introduced to the IEP planning, implementation, and evaluation process. Teacher candidates explore Response to Intervention and what it means to support learning and how it can be used as a method for identifying children with learning disabilities. Once they have this framework, teacher candidates are required to differentiate and provide appropriate modifications for instruction to meet the needs of students with disabilities throughout the rest of the program. All teacher candidates in the IPED teacher preparation program complete a course designed to help them understand the experiences and learning needs of the English Language Learner in their classroom. Courses in the Secondary Program (EDU 200: Seminar and Clinical II; EDU 302: Developmentally Appropriate Design, and EDU 412: Literacy Across the Content Areas) and courses in the Elementary Program (EDU 200: Seminar and Clinical II; EDU 332 Foundations of Literacy; and, EDU 435: Second Language Acquisition) provide teacher candidates with the opportunity to learn strategies such as scaffolding, graphic organizers, collaborative reading, imaging, read/think-alouds, language experience writing, leveled questions, preview and review of vocabulary work, readers theater or story reenactment to support language instruction. Candidates learn assessment processes that support ELLs and learn about ways to evaluate ELL work. During their advanced seminar courses (EDU 410 and EDU 440), teacher candidates are required to design a community-based unit that takes into account the language and cultural assets of the community, families, and students. The importance of the students' family and cultural backgrounds are emphasized through authentic activities. Culturally responsive teaching practices are introduced and are used as a means to understand the context in which students learn and to make connections between curriculum and students' lives. Please use this space to provide any additional information that describes your teacher preparation program(s). You may also attach information to this report card (see below). The U.S. Department of Education is especially interested in any evaluation plans or interim or final reports that may be available.

From the beginning of the IPED Teacher Preparation Program through residency, all teacher candidates are placed in a co-teaching classroom setting. Co-teaching in a clinical setting is defined as, "two teachers, a mentor teacher and a teacher candidate, working together with groups of students; sharing the planning, organization, delivery and assessment of instruction, as well as the physical space" (Bacharach, Heck & Dank, 2004). Prior to applying for residency, our secondary teacher candidates serve a minimum of 240 hours. Through co-teaching, teacher candidates experience multiple clinical settings and are provided with support, coaching and feedback as they develop and build their knowledge, skills and dispositions about what it means to be a teacher and learner. Through these strong co-teaching partnerships, teacher candidates better understand the complexities of teaching as a profession. To enable a stronger understanding of the developmental nature of learning, teacher candidates in our program are placed at their co-teaching sites for a year. Over the course of the year, teacher candidates develop an understanding of the Wisconsin Teacher Standards, CCSSs. the school's program curriculum, and are supervised by their site mentor teacher and a faculty supervisor. Throughout the year, teacher candidates are assessed based on the Danielson Framework and provided with supportive feedback from their mentor teacher and university supervisor.
