The Racine City Directory, 1858. Compiled and Published by Smith, Du Moulin & Co., Great North Western Directory and Statistical Publishing and Advertising House, 134 East Water Street, Milwaukee, Wis. Racine: H. G. Winslow, Bookseller and Stationer, 146 Main Street. Price, $1,25.

P R E F A C E .

We herewith present to our Citizens the first RACINE CITY DIRECTORY.

The want of a reliable work of this character, has long been felt.

The publishers have spared no exertion to make it as truthful and correct, as in their power laid. The City was thoroughly canvassed; the work is accurately compiled, handsomely printed and well bound.

To those who have so generously patronized us in advertising and subscribing, we beg leave to tender our sincere thanks. To the Citizens generally, who have assisted us in obtaining the necessary information, thereby lessening the laborious task, we are under many obligations.

We submit the same with the assurance that the work will be generally appreciated, with a hope that our next issue will atone for any errors in this.

Respectfully your obedient servants,

SMITH DU MOULIN & CO.

RACINE, March 15th, 1858.

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1858, by Smith Du Moulin & Co., in the Clerk's office of the District Court, for the District of Wisconsin

SCHOOLS.

There are four Departments—Primary, Intermediate, Grammar, and High School—and sixteen schools. Of these, eight are Primary and six are Intermediate Schools, one is a Grammar School and one is the High School. At present there are about 1300 pupils in the schools, under the charge of 24 teachers. The course of study is such that a child may commence in the Primary School and graduate from the High School with a good business education, or fitted to enter the Sophomore Class in College.

The value of School Property is $46,000. There are six school houses, located as follows :

- 1st Ward School House, Wisconsin Street.
- 2d “ “ “ Seventh Street.
- 3d “ “ “ No. 1, Barnstable Street.
- 3d “ “ “ No. 2, West Street.

HIGH SCHOOL.

This school was opened December 12, 1853, in charge of John G. McMynn, Principal, who is still at the head of the school. Its members now number 80, although a Preparatory Class of 35 are accommodated in the High School room, which contains 120 desks. The course of study is such as is usual in schools of this character in the East, and its students and graduates are found in all parts of the State. For admission, an examination in Spelling, Reading, Arithmetic (as far as per centage,) Geography, History of the United States and Writing must be passed. The examinations are conducted in writing.

Mrs. E. W. McMynn, and Mrs. C. A. Sheldon are at present Associate Teachers, the former having been connected with the school since its opening.

Although not designed to accommodate more than our own citizens, it has been usual for the School Board to admit pupils from abroad if possible.

RACINE COLLEGE.

FACULTY.—Rev. Roswell Park, D. D., President, and Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy; Rev. Joseph H. Nichols, A. M., (Chicago,) Professor of English Literature; Rev. George Cowell, A. M., Acting Professor of the Greek and Latin Languages; Marshall M. Strong, Esq., A. M., Lecturer on Legal Science; Philo R. Hoy, M. D., Lecturer on the Natural Sciences and Physiology; Warren J. Durhan, A. B., Principal of the English Department; Mr. Dan Howard, (of the Racine Commercial College,) Teacher of Writing; Mr. Shepard D. Cutting; Steward.

Racine College was founded by the citizens of Racine, under the auspices of the Protestant Episcopal Church, at the instance of the Rt. Rev. Jackson Kemper, D. D., and the Convention of the Diocese of Wisconsin, which met in Milwaukee, June 11th, 1851, acting through its Committee, consisting of Rev. Azel D. Cole, D. D., Gen. Philo White, and Mr. Jacob Morrison. It was incorporated with full collegiate powers and privileges, by the Legislature of Wisconsin, March 3d, 1852; and the corner stone of the present College edifice was laid on the 5th of May, following, when an eloquent and appropriate address was delivered by the Rev. Joseph H. Nichols, then Rector of St. Luke's Church, Racine. The College exercises were commenced with nine Students, on the 15th of November, 1852, soon after the return of the President, from a summer's tour in Europe; and the first Collegiate year closed with thirty-three Students, on the 28th of July, 1853, when the first Commencement was held, in Union Hall, and a very impressive address was delivered by the Rev. W. W. Arnett, D. D., of Milwaukee, on Christian Education. But the College building was not completed for use until the opening of the fourth session, on the 14th of September, 1853, commencing the second Collegiate year. The second Commencement, was held in St. Luke's Church, on the 27th day of July, 1854; when an able address was delivered by the Rev. Robert H. Clarkson, D. D. of Chicago, on the Cultivation of the Natural Sciences. The third Commencement was also held in St. Luke's Church, July 26th, 1855; when a learned address was pronounced by the Rev. Hiram N. Bishop, of Kenosha, on the Protestant Reformation.— At the fourth Commencement, held in the same place, July 24th, 1856, an instructive address was delivered by the Rev. Azel D. Cole, D. D., President of Nashotah Theol. Seminary, on the Study of the Exact Sciences; and the address at the fifth annual Commencement, was delivered by the Rev. Alexander Carpenter, of Kenosha, on Domestic Education.

The site of Racine College, comprising ten acres of valuable land, generously given by Charles S. Wright and Truman G. Wright, Esqs, excepting that a donation of $500 from Isaac Taylor, Esq., was made over to them as a partial payment. An additional lot, north of the preceding, was afterwards purchased of the Messrs. Wright, as a site for the President's house; the price being $400; a part of which was paid by the avails of Lectures delivered by the President of the College, in the winter of 1852-3; and the other part, by a subscription made by a few citizens of Racine, as announced in the second Annual Catalogue. A very grateful tribute should here be paid to the memory of Charles S. Wright, Esq., one of the greatest benefactors of the College; who died July 27th, 1855,—greatly respected and lamented.

The present College building was erected under the direction of a Committee, appointed by the subscribers to its funds, and consisting of Dr. Elias Smith, and Messrs. Isaac Taylor and John M. Cary; to whom the thanks of this community are eminently due, for their assiduous, judicious, and gratuitous prosecution of the work to a successful close. The edifice is built of pale brick, in the Gothic style, and is 126 feet long, by 34 feet wide. The central part, which projects to the front, contains four large recitation-rooms; besides a chapel, with open roof, occupying the whole of the upper story; and kitchen and dining room in the basement. There are ten rooms in each wing, designed for Student's dormitories, but three of them are occupied by the Steward's family in the South wing, and one by the Officers of the College, who have charge of the North wing.—The location is a beautiful one, on the southern margin of Racine, traversed by the Main Street of the city, in an oak grove, fronting on Lake Michigan, and commanding an extensive view of the Lake, in its ever varying phases.

In April and May, 1857, the citizens of Racine munificently subscribed $12,000, for the erection of a second college building, a twin to the first; the corner stone of which was laid by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Kemper, on the fourth day of last July, and the exterior of which is now completed; while the work on the interior, is still in progress. It is under the charge of a building committee, consisting of Isaac Taylor, Esq., Lyman W. Munroe, Esq., and Dr. Elias Smith, of the Board of the Trustees; Lucas Bradley, Esq., being the architect.

Racine College now numbers twenty-five surviving graduates, chiefly in the shorter course of studies; but its sole endowment consists in land, building, and apparatus, worth about $30,000, and free from all incumbrances. It is hoped that benefactions will yet be received, which will place it in a stronger and more independent position; and that it will grow with the growth of our city and our state.

RELIGIOUS WORSHIP—CHURCHES.

Baptist, First, Public Square, Rev. R. K. Stimson, Pastor.

Baptist, (German,) Villa street, Rev. E. Ischrich, Pastor.

Baptist, (col'd,) Campbell, between Eleventh and Twelfth, Rev. P. Bowler, Pastor.

Catholic, St. Ignatius, Chatham street, Rev. T. A. Smith, Pastor.

Catholic, St. Mary's, (German,) Barnstable street, Rev. —. Sauler, Pastor.

Congregational, Sagetown, Rev. M. P. Kinney, Pastor.

Congregational, (Welsh,) Barnstable street, Rev. Evan Griffiths, Pastor.

Episcopal, St. Luke's, Public Square, Rev. R. Park Pastor.

St. Luke's Church, Racine, is in union with the Diocese of Wisconsin, which is a part of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America. The first clergyman of this church who ever preached in Racine, was the Rev. Lemuel B. Hull of Milwaukee, in the spring of 1840; and the first who officiated here regularly, was the Rev. William Allison of Kenosha, in 1841; but the Parish was first organized by the Rev. John H. Hobart in the spring of 1842, Mr. Henry F. Cox, Senior, having been its first Warden. The Rev. William Walsh officiated here in 1843; and the Rev. Frederick W. Hatch in 1844, when the first steps were taken for erecting a church edifice, on land generously given by Jacob A. Barker, Esq., now of Buffalo, New York. The Rev. Ebenezer Williams preached here in 1845; and the church was consecrated, May 7th 1846, by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Kemper. The consecration sermon was preached by the Rev. Samuel Marks, who continued here as rector of the parish until June, 1849, and was succeeded by the Rev. Azel D. Cole, D. D., now President of the Nashotah Theological Seminary. Under his ministry, the church grew rapidly, and a debt of $2,100 on the building was speedily paid by a generous subscription, leaving the parish free from all incumbrance. After the resignation of Dr. Cole, Sept. 1st, 1850, the Rev. James De Pui was called to the rectorship, but resigned in April 1851, and was succeeded by the Rev. John A. Bowman as officiating minister, who continued to preach here until the accession of the Rev. Joseph H. Nichols as Rector of the parish, Nov. 10th, 1851. This office was held by the Rev. Mr. Nichols, longer than by any of his predecessors. His resignation took place, Sept. 1st, 1856, when the present Rector, the Rev. Roswell Park, D. D., having been unanimously called to this office, entered upon its arduous duties. During the last summer, the church edifice was closed for enlargement, but was re-opened with appropriate services, Oct. 25th, 1857. The edifice now contains 92 pews, and including the gallery, will seat about 500 persons. The church is believed to be in a prosperous condition, and now numbers 160 communicants; the rite of confirmation having been administered to 65 persons within the past year by the Rt. Rev. Jackson Kemper, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of Wisconsin. In August, 1857, services were commenced in the North Ward of Racine, popularly called Canada, in an old school house, now known as the Mission Chapel; and it is hoped that the interest now created there, may be permanent and beneficial.

Lutheran, (German,) Villa Street.

Methodist Episcopal, Barnstable Street, Rev. C. D. Pillsbury, Pastor.

The Methodist denomination had preaching in the place only occasionally, previous to the year 1854. A house of worship was built on Barnstable street the preceeding year, which was enlarged and reconstructed in 1855. It is now a very respectable church, having an auditory which will seat some 500 people, and convenient lecture and class rooms in the basement. It is warmed by a furnace and lighted with gas. It has also a good organ.

Since the opening of the church in 1844, the following clergymen have supplied the pulpit :

1844-5	Rev. G. L. S. Stuff,	1851-2	Rev. F. A. McNeal,
1845-6	“ J. Field,	1852-3	“ J. W. Putnam,
1846-7	“ W. P. Oliver,	1853-4	“ C. C. Mason,
1847-8	“ W. P. Oliver,	1854-5	“ C. C. Mason, and
1848-9	“ M. Bennett,		Rev. A. Foster,
1849-50	“ A. Hanson,	1855-6	Rev. W. G. Miller,
1850-1	“ A. Hanson and	1856-7	“ W. G. Miller,
	Rev. F. A. McNeal,

The church has a membership of nearly two hundred, and is now in a prosperous state under the pastoral charge of the Rev. C. D. Pillsbury, recently from the State of Maine.

Methodist Episcopal, (Scandinavian,) Sagetown, Rev. C. Willerup, Pastor.

The church was built under the supervision of Rev. C. Willerup—now a missionary in Norway—on a lot the City Council gave off the south end of Huron Street. The Church is built of brick, 44 by 34, and 16 feet high.

Service held every Sunday morning at 10½ o'clock, and evening at 7 o'clock, all after the form and description of said church.

Methodist Episcopal, (Welsh,) Villa Street, bet Seventh and Eighth, Rev. J. Jones, Pastor.

Methodist Calvinistic, (Welsh,) Villa Street, Rev. Thomas Phillips, Pastor.

This society was formed in the year 1842, in a log house; and a small frame building of 20 by 30 feet, was erected on the present church site in the year 1844. In the year 1850 the building was enlarged by an addition of 12 feet.

In the spring of 1856 it became evident that a larger house was needed to accommodate the increasing congregation; and the present brick building was commenced in the summer of 1856, and was dedicated in the spring of 1857. The building is 39 by 54 feet, and was erected at a cost of about $4,500; which was subscribed by the church and congregation, with the exception of some $200 subscribed by the citizens of Racine.

This church has 125 members, and a congregation of about 300. The Sabbath School numbers 166.

The church at present is without a settled pastor, but the pulpit is supplied by the Rev. Thos. Phillips. Public service at 10 A. M. and 6½ P. M., and Sabbath School at 2 P. M.
